RUMOR OF LEAK ON OIL REPORT

Recent Wall Street Raid on Doheny Securities Responsible

TIPS BEFORE FINDINGS

First Report of Mexican Wells Going Dry Came From Pittsburgh—Is Report In Circulation

Washington, June 20. — Official Washington is trying to find out whether a group of Wall street speculators has succeeded in running another pipe line into any of the Government departments. The spectacular raids recently conducted by the aggressive "bear" contingent in Wall street against the securities of the Mexican Petroleum and the Pan-American Petroleum concerns controlled by the Doheny interests is responsible for the pastime.

The reason for the personal interest manifested by officials and Congressmen is that the spectacular drive against the oil properties is alleged to have been based upon advance information regarding the report of an expert of the Shipping Board, which finally reached the public through the agency of a committee of Congress—after some one or several persons had made many millions of dollars.

Several financiers in Pittsburgh, New York and possibly Washington, are credited with having won large sums through the manipulation of Mexican oil securities. Mr. Doheny said in New York he would demand an investigation.

There has been little or no talk of an inquiry here. Washington is much concerned, however, as to where, how and from whom the promoters of one of the most successful stock market coups in recent years secured in advance Government information.

For four or five days Congressional cloakrooms, hotel corridors and brokers' offices have echoed the reports of "leaks" and other mysterious devices by which Wall street is popularly believed to secure information which it coins into dollars.

Circumstances characterizing the history of the assault on Mexican oil securities have been skillfully woven together by persons of a suspicious turn of mind to support their statements that both the Shipping Board and the Foreign Affairs Committee were made the victims of a "frame up" to raid the Mexican Petroleum securities in the New York stock market.

Propaganda obviously directed against the American oil stocks bore all the earmarks of a carefullyr conceived plan such as is usually found back of most of Wal lstreet coups. Five or six weeks ago "exclusive tips" were given to representatives of some of the leading newspapers of the country that they might find a "good story" if they looked into the subject. Covert suggestions were made that an investigation would disclose that "the Mexican oil wells are drying up," "salt water has got into the Mexican wells," "The Mexican supply will be exhausted in a short time," etc.

These reports appeared to emanate from Pittsburgh sources, where there are very large oil interests. A Pittsburgh newspaper printed sensational stories tending to confirm the report. Washington correspondents properly appraised the statement—as Wall street propaganda. Their judgment was, to some extent, influenced by the presence of one of the boldest of the Wall street "bears," who appeared to take more than casual interest in accelerating the propaganda.

Soon vague statements began to crystallize into more definite information. Through subtle and insidious channels the tip came that a Government report, showing that the Mexican oil fields were going dry for appearance; also that Congress would various causes, would soon make its call for information and "possibly an investigation" of oil production in Mexico.

The basis for the first statement was that the Shipping Board had sent an expert to Mexico to investigate the actual and potential sources of petroleum supplies upon which the oil burning ships of the Government fleet might depend. Agents of all the oil companies and several Wall street speculators manifest great interest in the Shipping Board investigation and made efforts to secure a copy of the expert's report. There seem to be little question but that some of the artists in Wall street were successful

Children's Day services were held in the evening at 8 o'clock and the auditorium of the church was crowded with the members and friends of the church. The program was well carried out by the scholars who represented the different characters. Class No. 6, teacher, Mr. Norman Roberts, retained the banner for giving the highest amount to missions.

Tomorrow night the Ladies' Aid will hold a birthday social in the lecture room of the church and all members, friends and visitors are welcome.

BROTHERS DROWNED IN FOUR MILE RUN

Young Sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rollins of Del Ray

BODIES RECOVERED

Oldest Boy Was Bathing and Younger Brother Loses Life in Effort to Save Mate.

Two brothers, Harold Rollins, about ten years old, and Lee Rollins about eight years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Rollins of Bellfonte avenue, Del Ray, Arlington, county, were drowned in Four-mile run shortly after 10 o'clock this morning.

Harold Rollins went in swimming. He could swim but little it is said and soon was beyond his depth. Realizing his predicament he cried out lustily for help. His little brother Lee realizing his older brother's predicament, although unable to swim, went over in an effort to save the brother Thomas Pence, about fourteen years old of St. Elmo, made an ineffectual effort to prevent Lee Rollins from going overboard, he realizing Lee's inability to cope with the situation. Lee, however, determined to make an effort to prevent Harold from losing his life went over despite Pence's resistance and he soon was lost in the run.

News of the double drowning soon spread and a large crowd of persons assembled at the run and a search for the bodies was begun. Half an hour afterward the body of Harold was recovered by James McBride and A. H. Engleking both of whom went overboard and after a short search recovered the body beneath the arch at the run about an hour after the finding of the first body the body of Lee Rollins was recovered by Mr. Freeman.

Both bodies were placed on the bank at the run and Dr. R. J. Yates, coroner of Potomac, was summoned and after learning the facts in the case he deemed an inquest unnecessary and gave a certificate of accidental drowning. The mother of the boys was prostrated upon learning of the news of the drowning. She was ill at home at the time.

Both boys attended school in the town of Potomac and the news of their tragic deaths was received with regret by their many little friends. Mr. and Mrs. Rollins have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

The bodies of both boys were taken to Demaine's chapel and prepared for burial. The fuenral arrangements have not yet been made.

Signs With Nationals

Roland Gaines, of This City, To Be Given Try Out In Ball League

Ensign Roland Gaines, of this city, has signed up with the Nationals. The game between the Masons and Odd Fellows, last Thursday, for the benefit of the Salvation Army, was the means of starting an Alexandrian on a big league career. "Nick" Altrock umpired the game, and Roland Gaines pitched for the Masons. Uncle "Nick" must have discovered something in this Alexandria twirler, because all ready Griffith has prepared a contract and has secured the signature of Gaines. He left yesterday for New York with the Washington Club.

Gaines started his baseball playing with the Alexandria High School. After leaving high school Gaines received an appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy, where he made a wonderful record on the mound. Graduating from the Academy the early part of this month, he was spending a few days at home and was asked to pitch for the Masons. "Nick" saw something good and immediately swung onto it. Griffith, it is understood, has secured for Gaines a three month furlough.

It is the sincere hope of his many Alexandria friends, that his stay in the big league will be crowned with success.

LEWIS' BOOM IS FADING AWAY

Friends Say Announcement of Candidacy Must Come Soon

EXPLAIN SLOWNESS

Opening of Campaign to Unionize Steele Industry Postponed—Favors Closed Shop

Denver, June 20.—John L. Lewis boom for president of the American Federation of Labor showed signs of deflation today. This may have been partly due to the absence of Mr. Lewis at Colorado Springs and the work of the administration "mechanics" may be a contributary cause, but main reason is the lack of a definite statement from Lewis as to where he stands.

Friends of Lewis have been urging him to declare his candidacy at once. If he does, they say, they believe they can elect him. But, they add, such a declaration must come within 24 hours to be of much real assistance.

There is ground for believing that failure of the anti-Gompers men to produce what they have promised—votes enough to win—explains lack of haste on the part of Lewis in announcing himself as a candidate. They have been long on promises and claims but short on deliveries.

This is particularly true of the railroad group of unions. All of these have been claimed by the anti-Gompers men. Inquiry among the railroad men shows that there is anything but agreement to oppose Gompers. Much of the work in the railroad group has been done by Tim Healey, of New York. He cannot deliver his own delegation solidly.

Lewis may declare his position today. If he says he is a candidate it will mean that he has been given reasonable proof that he can be elected. If he says that he is not a candidate, the record will be that of a man free from defeat, for to date he has not personally told anyone he is a candidate or so far as is known asked any man to vote for him.

The opening of the actual nation-wide campaign to unionize the steel industry has been postponed indefinitely because of the industrial depression, it was officially announced last night by the executive council of national and international organizations in the steel industry affiliated with the Federation.

The council discussed wage reductions in the steel mills and decided that "another attempt at wage reductions probably would result in the committee throwing its resources into the fight to help the workers.

The Irish factions continue their squabble, with the result that there is more than a fair chance that they will get little from the convention. Frank P. Walsh in effect has told the delegates, through telegrams and through his agents here, that it must be a boycott of English goods, or nothing and there is a tendency on the part of delegates not of Irish blood or birth to take Walsh at his word and give little.

The personal influence of Peter J. Brady, of New York, who is leading the conservative wing, however, probably will be sufficient to overcome the resentment aroused by the demands of the extremists.

The resolution calling for a boycott was originally signed by 20 delegates Today 11 of the 20 withdrew their support and declared that the Brady resolution meets with their approval.

The Rev. Hugh L. Momonamin, who at the age of 10 worked in the mines of Pennsylvania as a breaker boy, preached a labor sermon in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception today. In this he declared strongly for the closed union shop "if it is necessary, to advance the cause of the workers," at the same time urging that labor purge itself of all that is unclean and unworthy.

William H. Johnston, president of the Machinists, who was denied admission to Russia, and was last heard from in Berlin en route for home, has been called by representatives of the Near East Relief Fund to proceed to Constantinople, with a view of helping the work when he returns home.

TODAY'S THOUGHT — The world's great men have not commonly been great scholars nor its great scholars great men. Holmes.

Our Congressional Record

The Congressional Record is published by the people of the United States. That is we pay for its printing and publishing, so we can call it ours.

It has been described as the widest circulated and the least read of any publication in the world. Other sarcastic things have been said of it, and when the newspaper jokesmiths run short of materia topica, they fall back on the official annals of the national legislature.

'Tis true that the Sanaran Desert is an oasis of humid verdure and birdsong as compared to the Record. Nothing is drier to the man on the street than a perusal of its pages. Yet neither is it entirely stale and unprofitable. It is like an ocean of fluid amber that embalms many an item for the historian of future centuries. We are frank to say that we are among the occasional students of its laborious pages. Now and then we find nuggets of information that appeal to us as of general interest. We shall, from time to time print in the Gazette such matter as we deem more or less important to the public.

In the Record of the eighth instant, in a debate in the United States Senate there was introduced a table or chart which shows the number of spare parts of automobiles and trucks turned over by the War Department to the Department of Agriculture and other departments, as amounting in value to the sum of $7,271,735.00. These, it is estimated, will maintain the motor vehicles in use by the federal government for a period of one to two years. Mostly for one year. In other words, it costs this Government over four millions of dollars annually for spare parts to its automobiles, trucks and motorcycles. The War Department likewise distributed among the various states passenger automobiles, trucks and motorcycles to the number of 26,423. Virginia got as her share, 46 passenger cars, 20 light delivery trucks, 15 ambulances, and 547 trucks from one to five tons; a total of 638 motor vehicles. Pennsylvania led the list with 1,047; New York next, with 1,024. Texas third with 927. A rough estimate of the value of the entire number distributed would certainly not be less than 26 millions of dollars.

These figures are worthy of some thought on the part of the public. Many things are to be said pro and con. We are entirely silent as to any deduction or induction to be made. We simply give the statistics for what they may be worth. At least, they are suggestive!

W.-Va. Smoking Cars

There is much dissatisfaction among the patrons of the W.-Va. Railway, especially the men who travel in the early and late hours to and from Washington, concerning the abolition of the smoking car. To deprive a working-man of the solace of his morning pipe on his way to the day's labor, is to start his day wrong. A habit of many years, perhaps, it works great hardship to suddenly compel him to abandon the solace of his matutinal smoke. Without going into the psychology of the matter, it is possible that a whole day may go wrong; loss of temper, nerves unstrung, lack of pep and ambition, surely the diminished efficiency in the day's task may be a loss to his employers as well as a detriment to his own earning capacity.

We suggest that the smoking car might again be restored to the traveling public during those hours when the rush is confined mostly to men going to or returning from work. As a question of finance simply, would not this accommodation to the public more than offset the additional expense involved? Now that the W.-Va. Railway Co., has had its rates raised by the Interstate Commerce Commission, can it not give some thought to the comfort of its patrons who pay the bills?

THE SHAPE OF THE HEAD HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH CHARACTER

Even one of the most plausible of their statements, namely, that a high forehead is a sign of intelligence, has been definitely disproved by the painstaking studies of Karl Pearson. He demonstrated experimentally that the color of the hair, or its straightness or curliness, shows one's intelligence better than does a high forehead, although these are not offered either as good indices. In other words, there has been found no definite relationship between any single peculiarity of the shape of the head and any trait of character.

For many years an Italian criminologist, Lombroso, made a study of criminal structural peculiarities and their relationship to crime. He found well marked tendencies for criminals to possess certain stigmata or signs. But unfortunately the signs of the criminal were found to be widely prevalent among those whose names had never been upon police blotters. It was his pet scheme to have all individuals who were marked by a peculiar sign watched by his detectives, thus preventing crime instead of merely punishing it after it had been committed. It was entirely impracticable, for the characteristic sign of a murderer was found in altogether too many tender hearted individuals to make the scheme at all feasible.

All systems of similar nature, in which relationship has been sought between traits of character and peculiarity of the structure, have met about the same fate.

In physiognomy the goal is to find certain landmarks on the face or forehead which shall stand as universal signs of certain definite traits of character. Before venturing on a theoretical discussion it may be illuminating to mention the statement made by a colleague in a recent public lecture.

30 TONS OF STORED ICE MELT IN $10,000 BLAZE

Carlisle, Pa., June 20.—Thirty tons of ice were completely destroyed last night in a $10,000 fire at Mt. Holly Springs, near here, which for a time threatened to destroy the little village. The ice was stored in the plant of Noel Cunningham.

The fire started when a gasoline tank in a frame building was ignited by a lantern being used to see to fill the tanks of an automobile. Mrs. Cunningham, who was seated in the machine when the explosion occurred, was uninjured. After an hour and twenty-five minutes, Mt. Holly Springs firemen, with antiquated apparatus, managed to get the flames under control.

Wilson's Old Room at U. of Va. Was Birthplace of Pi Kappa Alpha Frat

Charlottesville Va., June 20.—In replying to a query of Woodrow Wilson regarding his old room at the University of Virginia, the one he occupied as a student, it has developed that the old room heretofore regarded as the "Wilson Room," No. 23, West Range, is not the correct one. A search of the records in the bursar's office shows that the room in which the Pi Kappa, Alpha fraternity was founded, No. 31, West Range.

This room was offered as a perpetual scholarship to the visitors last year by the Pi Kappa fraternity, and was accepted by that body, the first scholarship holder to occupy it being Winston Atteberry, of Crowley, La. Mr. J. Bolling Jones has been awarded the scholarship for the summer quarter this year.

The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity placed a handsome bronez plate on the wall just to the left of the door commemorating its foundling and giving the names of its founders.

While the voodoo number is still attaches to [illegible] who occupied that number the voodoo number has thus been removed from the connection with Mr. Wilson's name.

Triple Funeral For Child Victims of Father Slayer

Washington, D. C., June 20—From the District Morgue, where they now rest side by side, three children of Samuel R. Cranford, who were found dead in a gas-filled room at 906 G street southwest, late Saturday night, will be taken to Lorton, Va., this afternoon, for burial tomorrow in one grave, in the family plot.

Cranford's body, which was found in the room with his dead children, will be claimed today by relatives. Mrs. Ellen Cranford, mother of the little ones, is prostrated at her parents' home in Lorton. One of the women who reside at the G street address said Cranford had often abused his wife, and that on one occasion, she was told, she suffered many ounces when he beat her. It was through fear that he might kill her that she did not return to her home Saturday, it was said.

A coroner's inquest will be conducted this afternoon to determine if possible the circumstances of the tragedy. While no trace of drugs was found in the room, the police are working on the assumption that the father administered an opiate to the children before he turned on the gas.

SPORTS

The Cardinal Athletic Club base ball team defeated the crack Gibraltar Athletic Club nine of Washington, by an 10 to 9 score on the Alexandria High School field Sunday.

There were many sensational plays made by members of both teams. Good old time batting was indulged in by the Cardinal sluggers.

The Gibraltars trimmed the Cardinals early in the season and kept crowing in the Washington papers about it so often that it really became nauseating to the readers of the sports pages.

The Cardinals had a much better team on the field yesterday than when they met the Gibraltars before, but very few fans were present to see them commence their winning streak. Brother fans watch the Cardinals, they are climbing to the top and they will not be kept down.

Come out to see them in action next Sunday. You are welcome. Everything free and your attendance will be appreciated.

The Triple A's yesterday won a slugging contest from the Camp Humphrey team, to the tune of 17 to 7. Peverill started for the A's but was relieved in the second by Babe Anderson, who pitched impossible ball till the eighth inning, when the visitors scored 4 runs. Two of the fastest double plays that where ever seen on the grounds were started and completed by little Dilly Moore, the crack second baseman. He also has the record of getting 6 walks in one game. Snyder played a wonderful game at first, missing nothing, and allways getting the impossible ones. The team as a whole played errorless ball.

Come down Sunday and see the Mayflowers try us.

Peerless Athletic Club, of Washington, was beaten Saturday afternoon, by Alexandria Torpedo Station by the score of 7 to 6.

The Alexandria Torpedo Station plays Bolling Field Aviators, Saturday, June 25, at Anacostia, D. C., at 3 p. m. All fans are invited to take the trip.

The Dreadnaughts met their second defeat of the season at the hands of the champion Rex A. C. yesterday by the score of 9 to 3. The game was much better than the score indicates as the Rex scored six runs in the first inning as the result of two bases on balls three errors and but two hits. On account of injuries and sickness to both Tommy Degnan and Chief Frazier the D's were forced to juggle their team to the extent that four men were thrown out of their natural position which did not help matters any. They did not score until the eighth when doubles by Dreifus and Devers, a triple by Snead and Ludlow's home run netted them 3 runs. Williams playing at short featured as the boy made two almost impossible catches in short left and they were two of the prettiest ever seen on local fields .The management of the Dreadnaughts have booked another game with the Rex the date of which will be announced later and they trust that they will be able to put their regular team in the field and show the fans that Rex does not outclass them. The game scheduled Saturday with the government Printing Office was not played as we regret to say the visitors did not put in their appearance. We are sorry to disappoint you, but as we had no word from them we did not have time to schedule another team. We thank you for your support yesterday and trust the next game will go the right way.

The largest crowd of the season saw yesterday's game at Baggett's Field, not an incident of any sort occuring to mar the pleasure of the fans present, unless it was that disasterious first inning, when the locals went up in the air for the first time this year.

Snead pitched wonderful ball after the first frame, most of the hits made being of the infield variety that should have been converted into easy outs, especially several bunts that came his way.

"Wop" Devers lead the hitters, with three wicked drives to different sections of the field, one rebounding off the right-field fence, and short stop Barnhardt, of the visitors robbing him of another by a fine stop in the last session.

The fans and local players will regret to learn that Tommy Degnan, the Dreadnaughts peppery third-baseman will be lost for the season, being operated upon Saturday afternoon for acute appendicitus. He was sadly missed in the Rex game, as the locals were caught without any man to fill his place, Devers filled in yesterday creditably, but Wop belongs on that second sack, where he is accustomed to working with Dick Williams at short.

Dick Williams scintillated a short two catches in short left-center being of big league stuff, this lad looks better in every game and has proven a favorite with the fans here.

Carl Dreifus played on one leg yesterday, being forced to nurse an injured ankle, his playing showed gameness to the core, and has caused comment as what he would have done with both dogs in good shape.

Ludlow's home run drive in the eighth frame gave the crowd present cause to exercise their lungs, this hit scoring the D's first two markers. This was followed by Strunkle's hit and Snead's mighty drive to center, which caroomed off the old smoke house, the rebound preventing another home run.

The Rex team as a whole looked mighty sweet, only one error by Johny Blair at first marring their offense. Pete Lynch, in center pulling off four fancy catches, robbing Giles and Devers out of sure hits. Pete, played with the Alexandria Baseball Club, during the seasons of 1911-12-13 at the North Alfred Street Park, and was seen yesterday talking over the old days with Ray Scrivener, Bird Trenary and Ray Astryke, three of the old boys.

Luke Sullivan, usually a fine official, had considerable trouble behind the plate, both clubs complaining of his decisions, Bill Entwisle alternated half of the game, which was a decided improvement.

The best team won the old ball game, the locals will iget another crack at the semi-pro champions August 10th.

The D's record for the two years are sixty one wins with three defeats, which is fair enough for any old ball club.

BOLD GEM HOLD-UP STARTLES PARIS

Paris, June 20.—The Greco-Turkish situation, the grand steeplechase at Auteuil and the aviation Grand Prix were outshadowed in Parisian interest Sunday by a daylight jewelry robbery on the Grand boulevard which recalls the exploits of the automobile bandit, Bonnot. Four desperadoes drove a stolen limousine to a jeweler's opposite the Rennaisance theater three minutes after the shop opened for Sunday business While one of the men smashed a plate glass window with a heavy hammer, another dumped a tray of diamonds and rings, said to be worth 500,000 francs, into a sack and the two others fired a fusilade into the shop.

In another minute, all bolted in the automobile, but one of the shop employs running after them fired seevral shots, one of which penetrated the back window of the car. Not far away the auto was deserted, stalled. Two revolvers, a carbine and two hats from a Barcelona, Spain, hatter were found on it.

LAWYER HURLS BISCUIT BOX AT PRISONER'S HEAD

Hagerstown, Md., June 20.—Police Court was thrown in an uproar yesterday when State's Attorney D. Angle Wolfinger, in reply to an epithet hurled at him by John Tabler, who was being given a hearing before Justice Halm on the charge of burglarizing a tore at Cearfoss, May 5, picked up a large tin biscuit box and sent it at Tabler's head. The box missed its mark and fell clattering upon the floor. Tabler jumped up and grappled with State's Attorney Wolfinger, but they were parted before they came to blows.

Scores of persons in the courtroom scurried for cover as the cracker box came hutling through the air. Tabler, with Harry Chaney, was held for the November grand jury on the burglary charge in $1,200 bail each Pascagoula, Miss., June 20.—Fire starting in a bakery swept through a large part of the business section of Pascagoula yesterday afternoon, resulting in damage estimated at not less than $250,000. At one time it appeared as if practically the whole town would be wiped out and calls for outside assistance were sent to Mobile and other nearby cities, but at 6 o'clock the flames were under control.

The Alabama and Mississippi Rail way station, seven stores, one theatre, several residences and a number of small shops were totally destroyed.

Atlanta Will Fight In Cleveland For Next Year's Kiwanis Club Meet

Cleveland, Ohio, June 20.—The board of directors and officers of the International Kiwanis Club met here yesterday, preliminary to their fifth annual convention, which opens today, continuing through Friday, which upward of 5,000 delegates and visitors are expected to attend.

Tomorrow will be devoted to conferences and registration, meetings of twenty international committees occupying the business part of the session.

The first general session will be held Tuesday morning.

Several hundred boosters for next year's convention arrived today. Chief among them was a trainload of Kiwanians from Atlanta, Ga., accompanied by a carload of watermelons and Georgia peaches, to be used as propaganda to get next year's convention for Atlanta.

Three hundred delegates from Toronto, Ontario, and a large delegation from Fort Worth, Texas, are scheduled to arrive today, to press the claims of their cities for the next convention.

Need 25,000 Physicians To Avoid Shortage in U. S.

Washington, June 20.—America's supply of physicians is 25,000 short; to avoid an acute shortage every effort must be made to induce young men of the country to study medicine.

That was the message delivered at the opening session of the American Institute of Homeopathy by Dr. Roy Upham, of Brooklyn, N. Y., first vice president of the institute.

So great is the need of young medicoes, Dr. Upham said, that the wives of the institute's members have organized the Woman's National Homeopathic League to assist medical students through college. Long and arduous study and the absence of quick financial return combine to discourage medical students, Upham said.

League Council Asks For Names Of Americans For World Court Bench

Geneva, June 20.—Elihu Root, Judge George Gray, of Delaware; John Bassett Moore and Oscar S. Straus have been invited by the Council of the League of Nations, in their capacity as members of The Hague Arbitration Tribunal, to propose the names of four persons, no more than two of whom shall be Americans, as candidates for election as judges of the International Court of Justice.

The election will take place in September by the Assembly of the League of Nations and the Council of the League. American names, if presented, are certain of election, it is currently said.

American judges may be nominated by other representatives of The Hague court in case Mr. Root and his colleagues do not find it expedient to make the nominations themselves.

New York, June 20.—Invitations to appoint four American candidates as judges for the International Court of Justice have not yet been received, Oscar Straus and John Bassett Moore said last night. Until such invitations are received, they added, no arrangements would be made for calling a meeting and selecting the American candidates.

Four Big Brotherhoods Not Touched by Wage Cut

Chicago, June 20.—Members of the four big brotherhoods were not affected by the wage cut decision made recently by the United States Railroad Board, it was announced here yesterday.

The board made this announcement in answer to queries from several railroads that were under the impression the wage cut included engineers, conductors, trainmen and firemen.

Those included in the cut, which become effective July 1, are shop employes and common laborers.

The board stated it would make a decision on the pay of the members of the four big brotherhoods in case a new scale could not be worked out in conference of employes and railroad managers.

Settle Litigation of Two Coca-Cola Companies

Atlanta, Ga., June 20.—Steps will be taken during the week to put in legal form essentials of an agreement reached late Saturday night by attorneys representing the Coca-Cola Co., of Delaware, and the Coca-Cola Bottling Companies under which litigation between the companies involving the perpetuity of existing contracts between them is settled, according to information last night.

The proceedings will be friendly and will provide for the dismissal of injunction proceedings now pending before the U. S. Circuit court by consent of all parties and the old relations existing between the companies prior to the litigation virtually will be restored.

BABY RUN OVER BY TRAIN TODDLES OFF UNINJURED

Pottsville, Pa., June 20.—Run over by an entire train on the Minersville branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Michael Matalsky, two years old, was uninjured yesterday. The baby was playing on the tracks and when he saw the train coming tumpled into a depression between the tracks, caused by two sunken rails. The crew did not see him and after the train passed the spot thought a dog had been run over. Then Conductor James P. McCormick was horrified to see a little human leg protruding over the rails and young Michael appeared, none the worse for his experience, crooing and laughing.

The incident was reported to Pennsylvania Railroad officials here yesterday and declared by them to be one of the most remarkable incidents occurring on the big railroad system.

CARBOLIC ACID SHOWER SCARS WOMAN FOR LIFE

Pittsburgh, June 20.—Disfigured for life by carbolic acid and probably permanently blinded, Mrs. Joseph Ference, victim of a modern woman's hate, is under the care of physicians in her home in Parker street, McKeesport. The woman whom Mrs. Ference accused is under surveillance by the police and will be arrested as soon as the acid scarred victim is able to appear against her.

The acid throwing, according to Mrs. Ference, was the climax of more than a year of petty persecution, the details of which were discovered when a wave of riots swept the town. Several times bricks or stones were hurled through windows and set afire. Last night she was walking in Oak street, near her home, when a woman whose family she had incurred passed her. Mrs. Ference turned. As she did so carbolic acid was hurled against her face. The right side was blistered and acid entered her eyes. Her assailant fled.

According to members of the Ference family, the acid thrower is a resident of their neighborhood with whom Mrs. Ference became involved in a dispute.
